

POWERUP
WHAT WORKS

www.PowerUpWHATWORKS.org

PowerUp WHAT WORKS offers free professional learning resources for blended professional development (PD). Learn how you can transform ongoing PD into a more personalized and on-demand experience that leverages technology to enhance teaching and learning for students with disabilities.

PowerUp WHAT WORKS provides PD materials focusing on evidence-based instructional strategies in English Language Arts and Math supported by technology, a Technology Implementation Practice Guide, and resources aligned with college and career standards.

Learn why eSchool News declared PowerUp WHAT WORKS as, “One of the best non-profits for the advancement of education technology . . . that offers customizable resources to improve teaching and learning for struggling students and those with disabilities.”

Get started by exploring:

- ✓ PowerUp Your Professional Development
- ✓ PowerUp Your School
- ✓ PowerUp Your Classroom

Awarded through a cooperative agreement from the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP), Grant #H327G090004, PowerUp WHAT WORKS was developed by a team of experts in education, technology, differentiated instruction/UDL, and special education at the Center for Technology Implementation, operated by American Institutes for Research (AIR) in collaboration with Education Development Center, Inc. (EDC) and Center for Applied Special Technology (CAST)